

Unitek EMT Arizona Now Offers BLS Training and EMT Refresher

Unitek EMT Arizona adds two continuing education courses vital to the training and re-certification of EMTs and other healthcare professionals

Chandler, Arizona – March 6, 2019 – Unitek EMT Arizona proudly announces two new training courses for emergency medical professionals: Basic Life Support (BLS) Continuing Education Course and EMT Refresher course. Taught by experienced instructors, these courses provide vital skills that EMTs and other healthcare professionals need to excel in their careers.

The new BLS Continuing Education Course delivers training in CPR and other basic life support skills. Approved by the American Heart Association (AHA), the 4-hour course is taught by AHA BLS-certified instructors. Participants learn to promptly recognize life-threatening emergencies, give chest compressions, deliver ventilations and provide early defibrillation. Graduates are awarded a digital e-card, valid for two years.

The new EMT Refresher Course is a 3-day curriculum that combines EMT Refresher with NCCP National Registry core material. The 30-hour course offers training sections in Ops, Airway, Cardiac, Medical and Trauma. Participants are refreshed on current, evidence-based emergency medicine. Individual help is provided for the recertification process.

“Our two new courses will bring valuable training to the EMTs and other healthcare professionals in the Phoenix area,” says Jessica Gonzalez, Program Director for Unitek EMT Arizona. “Now, in addition to our robust 14-Day EMT Boot Camp, we can offer continuing education in AHA BLS-CPR and an EMT Refresher Course needed to keep skills and certification up-to-date.”

Unitek EMT is a premier EMT training school located in California and Arizona. Their state-of-the-art courses and boot camps equip graduates with the latest theory and technique for first-response treatment of patients, along with certification or preparation for certification.
