

Unitek Learning Pioneers Hybrid Learning in Postsecondary Education

Unitek elects Vice President of Online Architecture and Innovation for new initiative.

Newport Beach, California – June 30, 2021 – Unitek Learning is thrilled to announce a new addition to their leadership team. In late April, Beth Bruner joined Unitek in the revolutionary role of Vice President of Online Architecture and Innovation.

“I am very pleased to announce that Beth Bruner has joined us in this new role,” said Dr. Abdel Yosef, Provost and Chief Academics Officer at Unitek Learning. “Through a virtual platform and hybrid approach, we can elevate the quality of our programs as well as student-learning outcomes. The goal is to meet today’s healthcare needs by producing excellent graduates to better serve our communities.”

Beth came to Unitek with over 15 years of experience. She previously served as Vice President/Executive Director of Learning Design. Some of her recent accomplishments include implementing standardized course design, development, quality assurance, and revision processes across over 20 academic partner institutions and a variety of learning management systems.

Beth specializes in hybrid curriculum design for healthcare education programs and instructional design practices that support student engagement. Previously, she managed a high-performing team through extreme growth and accelerated projects. She is currently in her second year of coursework towards her PhD in General Psychology with an emphasis in cognition and instruction at Grand Canyon University.

“We are so thrilled to expand our team and welcome individuals like Beth Bruner. It’s an honor and a privilege,” said Janis Paulson, Chief Executive Officer at Unitek Learning. “During the COVID-19 pandemic, we saw firsthand the importance of online platforms. Virtual learning must be a component of future endeavors in education. As we grow our team, we hope to better serve the communities around us through the advancement of education and healthcare.”

Unitek Learning is the parent company of several distinguished learning institutions: Unitek College, Unitek EMT, Eagle Gate College, Provo College, and Brookline College. Unitek programs teach the clinical practices and theory used in the field today. Equipped with a multitude of sought-after skills, Unitek graduates are prepared to excel in many of the fastest-growing careers in healthcare and nursing.
